Can migrants do the (border)work? Conflicting dynamics and effects of “peer-to-peer” intermediation in North and West Africa
Ida Marie Savio Vammen, Anissa Maâ & Julia Van Dressel
"Since the 1990s, the European Union (EU) and its Member States have been funding information and awareness-raising initiatives to deter irregular immigration. These programmes increasingly rely on the involvement of intermediaries with a migration background in so-called “peer-to-peer” information dissemination activities. Their “peerness” is considered an efficient tool to gain (potential) migrants’ trust, and ultimately enforce migration and border control. ..."
